NEWS FOR VETERANS

Young people of high school and college age are making a valuable contribution in volunteer service at some 75 Veterans Administration hospitals, VA announced.

The cheer and enthusiasm of the young volunteers and the services they perform are of great assistance to patients and members of the hospital staffs, a study just completed by a special subcommittee of the VA Voluntary Service shows.

In return, the young people gain satisfaction from fulfilling their responsibility for community service and often develop interest in careers in medicine and hospital work, the subcommittee said.

The hundreds of services performed by young volunteers at VA hospitals include delivering books and flowers to wards, acting as hostesses and receptionists, pushing wheelchair patients, and reading, shopping and writing for patients.

Those with special skills shelve and catalog library books, assist in laboratories and blood banks, help with production of newspapers and work as disc jockeys for hospital radio programs.

Subscription rate: $2.00 a year; payable in advance.

OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC

Do you ever stop to think and wonder what kind of world your children will live in? Do you realize how fast changes are taking place? Do you look back in awe at the amazing changes which have occurred in your lifetime?

Your children are growing up in a complex, complicated world; a fast moving world. They will live as adults in a still more complex and complicated world, unless the signs today are terribly deceiving.

To cope with the problem of living and making a living will require vision and understanding. "Where there is no vision the people perish." When shall come this knowledge: this vision and understanding? We have heard that "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

How shall we know the truth that shall make us free? We must search for it; work for it. We need the education that will show us how to search, how to conduct the research which will give us the facts to build our world upon. Opinions, fine phrases, and lip service to Christianity, democracy, and the public education system will not be enough in the arriving Atomic-Space Age.

Our children need the best education we can provide for them; they need an education which will help them to discover facts, to find the truth, to have vision and understanding. Our children are the future — they are your future and ours. Have you thought about that future? Have you checked to see if they are getting what they need? Are you doing your part?

Do you know the problems facing your education system today? Did you know that thousands of teachers left the teaching profession during World War II and never returned? Did you know that about 3000 of our better teachers in Virginia quit teaching every year and less than 1000 qualified teachers entered teaching from the colleges? Did you know that some schools in Virginia are operating on double shifts to try to accomodate the large numbers of children coming in on them? Did you know that the school population is growing by leaps and bounds in nearly all parts of Virginia? Did you know that many Virginia teachers have classes of from 30 to 45 students all day long? How would you like to have that many students in your care all day for five days a week?

YOUR public school system is faced with many problems. The teachers and other personnel in the school system cannot solve these problems alone. They must have help—help from you. Will you invest some of your time to seek the facts, think them over, and do what you can to give us a future with faith and vision?

Yours sincerely,
Appomattox Education Association. Prepared by the Legislative Committee. -W. Lewis Motley, Chairman.

Colored Dots

Regular preaching service at the St. Luke Baptist Church was well attended Sunday. Rev. J. A. Shelton, pastor, preached. The choir sang numbers appropriate to the day and occasion.
